Professional Summary

Evidence-based Medical Content Writer and final-year MBBS student combining strong clinical foundations with certified training from premier institutions, including the Armed Forces Medical College and the Ministry of Health and Family Welfare. Specializing in bridging the gap between rigorous clinical literature and high-retention digital media. Proven expertise in writing authoritative patient education campaigns, MedEd QBank rationales, and advanced digital health technology content that drives trust and engagement. Certified in clinical AI frameworks and national health protocols, I deliver content with high scientific accuracy and modern technical proficiency.

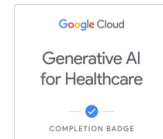

Education

- MBBS (Final Year)
- Rural Medical College, PIMS (Deemed University), Loni, Maharashtra

Experience and Certifications

- Clinical Content Architecture: Translate complex, multi-grade clinical guidelines (e.g., Neena Khanna's Dermatology, Harrison's Internal Medicine) into highly engaging digital carousels, blog assets, and patient-facing materials.
- Evidence-Based Literature Synthesis: Conduct advanced scientific literature reviews utilizing PubMed and Google Scholar, delivering content with absolute medico-legal and scientific precision.
- EdTech Content Development: Script high-yield clinical question explanations (QBank rationales), comprehensive medical study guides, and lecture scripts tailored to modern high-retention examination patterns (NEET PG/NEXT).
- College Magazine Lead (Editorial Team): Led editorial processes, content selection, and medical proofreading to ensure publication-quality writing and absolute scientific accuracy.
